MEMORANDUM.

THE Collection now offered for sale, comprises all the coins and medals gathered by Mr. J. O. Emery, of New York, since I purchased his former collection many years since. It will be found especially rich in silver medals, for which Mr. Emery always had a decided preference; hardly any cabinet ever sold in New York, with the exception of that made by Mr. Holland, contained so large a number of American Silver Medals as the one under consideration.

In the department of Politicals and Presidentials, will be found many of the rare pieces that now scarcely ever appear in the auction room, including some of the most valuable of the Harrison Medals.

Amongst the Washingtons, are many silver medals struck for Mr. Emery, which are known to be unique, and what is more to the purpose, he took precautions which must always prevent them from being duplicated.

Mr. Emery's gold is also worthy of special mention. I think, that in so small a collection, I have never offered an equally large number of pieces, which may fairly be called rare.

The collection of Soldiers' Medals and Badges is probably unequalled.

I have endeavored to describe them fairly, and trust I have fallen into no serious errors as to condition of the pieces.

153 View of Clifford's Tower; rev., York Cathedral: fine, scarce.

DOLLARS.

154. 1794 Obverse, every portion distinct; as usual, the lower stars back of the head weakly struck, the bust, date, "Liberty," and most of the stars quite as prominent as usual on these dollars; rev., as good as the obverse: the eagle, wreath and legend good, with the exception, of two letters, the impression of which is weak. An unusually good dollar for this date, which is extremely rare.

155 1795 Flowing hair, fine sharp impression: a beautiful dollar, just touched by circulation.

156 1795 Flowing hair; from another die: very fine, though not quite equal to the last.

157 1795 Fillet head, very fine; shows only the slightest marks of wear.

158 1796 Planchet a little streaked, but only in the slightest degree worn.

159 1796 From another die; about as fine as the last.

221 1810 Uncirculated.

222 1811 Uncirculated.

223 1812 Very fine.

224 1812 Another variety, polished surface, unworn.

225 1812 Still another variety: uncirculated.

226 1814 Very fine.

227 1815 Worn only in the slightest degree, may fairly be called uncirculated: has been pierced above the head and been so neatly plugged as to almost defy detection: rare, and most desirable.

228 1817 Over 1815; fine, and very scarce.

229 1817 Plain date, very fine.

230 1817 Variety, equally fine.

231 1818 Over 1817: uncirculated, scarce.

232 1818 Over 1817; rev. from a different die: very fine.

MEMORIALS OF THE WAR 1861–5.

The following collection of Corps Badges, Soldiers' Medals, etc. etc., gathered by Mr. J. O. Emery, is more extensive than any other known to the writer. Living in New York Mr. E. never let slip an opportunity of adding to it, with what success the catalogue best shows. The weights of gold are given in pennyweights and grains, the silver in avoirdupois ounces within one fourth ounce: weights in both metals include ribbons and other accessories. The condition is not described, as all or nearly all are perfect. The closing number indicates the largest measurement of the badges, or medal.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

SALES by Messrs. BANGS & CO.

739 & 741 Broadway, New York City.

EXECUTOR'S SALE.

The Numismatic Collection of the late Dr. GIDEON A. SEARING of Hempstead, Long Island, also his Library and collection of Brie-a-brae and Curiosities will be offered for Sale by Auction as soon as the Catalogues can be prepared.

A separate Catalogue will be devoted to each department and the Sale will probably occupy five days.

A noticeable feature of the Brie-a-Brae collection is the great number of Boxes in Silver, Ivory, Agate and other materials. Arms, Aboriginal Relics, Stone Implements, Mound Builders' and Indian Pottery are well represented.

ALSO, IN MAY,

THE COLLECTION OF COINS

formed by WILLIAM T. CURTIS, Esq., of Portland, Me. Mr. CURTIS has made a specialty of the varieties in the Connecticut and New Jersey Coinage, in the former especially his collection is believed to be unequalled, numbering as it does upwards of 300 classified varieties, with over 40 not mentioned by Crosby. Catalogues sent on application.

COINS, MEDALS & TOKENS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY,

BRIC-A-BRAC, INDIAN AND PRE-HISTORIC RELICS,

RARE AMERICAN BOOKS, ETC.

Collections, large or small, or single articles, bought for cash at liberal prices.

Special attention given to Auction Sales, which I hold in New York and Boston nearly every month during the season. Consignments of any amount received for sale in either city as the owner may prefer.

Collections catalogued and prepared for sale by auction or otherwise. Executors and others having miscellaneous, art and literary property to dispose of, may save themselves much trouble, and insure the largest returns possible by availing themselves of this feature of my business, to which I will always give most faithful attention. Satisfactory references furnished when required.

At this time I particularly wish to buy a large Numismatic collection worth from $6,000 to $10,000.

For Sale.—The finest and largest known collection of the private Fractional Currency in use during the late Civil War. Particulars on application.

For Sale.—A fine and large collection of Chinese Coins, some 500 in number, running back more than 4000 years, and all arranged and numbered with references to two English works on Chinese Numismatics which go with the coins.

For Sale.—Marvin's "Medals of the Masonic Fraternity." Edition for sale only 125 copies. Circulars sent on application.

☞ Of this Catalogue I have as usual printed especially for Collectors 50 copies on fine laid paper,—they are for sale for $1.00 unpriced, or $1.50 priced, as soon after the sale as they can be got ready.

Special Notice.—Correspondents will please address me from March 6th to March 12th, care of Messrs. Bangs & Co., 741 Broadway, New York City, and I respectfully suggest that to guard against accidental delays, orders, be sent at an early date, as at every recent sale some orders have arrived too late.
